STORY OF HOPE

After a devastating house fire left him with nothing, Jacob walked into The Salvation Army of Richmond with nowhere else to go. He sat down with a social worker at the corps who just listened to him and learned about the specific needs that he had.

The social worker brought Jacob to the back where he was able to look through donated clothing and pick out his own outfits that would fit him and keep him warm. He was also given a new blanket that he hugged to himself saying, "I will be able to stay warm as I sleep on my neighbor's couch."

At the corps he was also able to get some essentials like food, a toothbrush, toothpaste, deodorant, and soap. Additionally, a shovel and garden rake had recently been donated to the corps and would be perfect for Jacob as he worked to clean up the debris left on his lawn after the fire.

Jacob was so overjoyed by the generosity that he had tears forming in his eyes and he could not stop saying "thank you." He never knew he could find so much help. Before he left, Jacob and the social worker prayed together, and Jacob knew he would always have a place to feel safe.
