STORY OF HOPE

Suzanne has been a client at The Salvation Army of Goshen for many years. At 63 years of age, she is divorced and living on disability with her grandson in a local mobile home community. Her grandson's parents struggled with addiction issues and have been in and out of treatment programs and incarcerated for many years. These troubles lead to Suzanne raising and adopting her, now 10-year-old, grandson. When Suzanne was still able to work, she was making a good income, however; due to her age, she was no longer able to make an income outside of disability.

The Salvation Army of Goshen has been able to help Suzanne out using every resource and program that they offer. She has received help with prescriptions, diapers, formula, utility help, rent help, and paperwork assistance. The social worker at the Goshen Corps stated that "it has been a pleasure to help her along the way, as she is always grateful and appreciative of the assistance we have been able to offer throughout her years of need".
