STORY OF HOPE

Every day the free community meal at the Logansport Salvation Army feeds anywhere from 25-50 people, resulting in 8,461 meals being served to those in need in 2024. The community meal is provided every day by volunteers.

The kitchen volunteers began noticing that there were 4-5 houseless individuals who would begin lining up for the meal very early in the morning even though it did not get served until mid-day. The kitchen volunteers began bringing those individuals out a warm cup of coffee every day. The volunteers began to think, "we could do more." With the little resources available, the different volunteers each day began bringing in and making pastries and eggs first thing in the morning, in addition to prepping for the community meal. Major Marlys says "it is the little things that make the most difference in the world." The volunteers at the Logansport Corps, choose to do the little things every day and it is making a world of difference in the lives of the individuals who now get a cup of coffee and breakfast each morning.
