STORY OF HOPE

The Johnson family was facing a sad and quiet Christmas last year. With Dad out of work and bills piling up, there just wasn't enough for gifts. The thought of nothing under the tree weighed heavily on the parents' hearts.

Then they heard about The Salvation Army of Vincennes' Toy Shop. They signed up, unsure of what to expect. When the day came, they were welcomed with kindness and dignity. Inside the Toy Shop, they were invited to "shop" for each of their children—selecting brand-new pajamas and toys that matched their kids' personalities and needs.

On Christmas morning, joy filled their home. The kids beamed in their cozy new PJs, unwrapping toys that felt like they had been chosen just for them.

Tears welled up in Mom's eyes. The Vincennes Corps had helped more than their budget—they'd helped bring Christmas to life again.
